“THIS IS OUR DREAM. THIS IS OUR MISSION. THIS IS OUR GENERATION.”

In The Heart Of Arid Pastoral Communities, Young Children Tend To Livestock Under The Scorching Sun - Yet Their Souls Thirst For Something Infinitely Greater: The Timeless Guidance Of The Holy Qur'an.

1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY & OUR CALLING

Sagaate Jaldesa Daawah (SAJDA) was born in 2024 out of a profound responsibility: to preserve, nurture and light up the faith of pastoralist youth and communities in remote regions. For generations, physical distance and harsh socio-economic conditions have deprived young children of accessible Islamic education and basic literacy.

In the arid pastoral communities of Marsabit, children often grow up carrying responsibilities beyond their years. They tend livestock under demanding conditions, yet their hearts still thirst for the guidance of the Qur'an. SAJDA's dream is to ensure that distance, hardship and limited infrastructure do not determine whether a child has access to Islamic knowledge.

When you gaze into the eyes of a child holding a copy of the Holy Qur'an amidst the wilderness, you see more than just a student; you see a future leader, an imam, a teacher, and a beacon of hope for an entire region. Our mission is to bridge the gap between isolation and enlightenment by establishing village madrasas, constructing a regional Centre of Excellence & Waqf, providing Qur'an copies, supporting dedicated teachers, and building sustainable Daawah centers.

There are projects that build walls, and there are projects that build people. There are investments that benefit one season and there are investments designed to serve generations. The SAJDA Centre of Excellence is envisioned as the latter: a place where Islamic knowledge, education, leadership, practical skills and sustainable community development come together under one enduring vision.

Reading Today, Leading Tomorrow

Equipping pastoralist youth with Qur'anic literacy and foundation.

Raising Leaders Rooted in Qur'an

Nurturing character, leadership, and authentic Islamic values.

Support The Dream, Invest in Eternity

Creating lasting Sadaqah Jariyah through sustainable institutions.

2. THE KSh 220 MILLION CENTRE OF EXCELLENCE AND WAQF

Our planned Centre of Excellence, at an estimated cost of KSh 220,000,000, will serve as the hub of transformation for SAJDA's educational, Daawah and community-development mission.

This will not be merely a collection of classrooms. It is envisioned as a living ecosystem of knowledge: a place where a child can begin with foundational learning, a young person can progress into advanced Islamic studies, a Qur'an student can pursue Tahfeer Program, a future teacher can be professionally trained and the wider community can benefit from skills, leadership and sustainable support.

AT ITS HEART WILL BE FIVE INTERCONNECTED PILLARS:

TANAWI CLASSES - BOYS & GIRLS

A secondary foundation based on an Islamic curriculum, giving young people an educational pathway in which academic development and Islamic identity can grow together.

JAMIA CLASSES - BOYS & GIRLS

Advanced Islamic studies in Fiqh, Aqeedah, Hadith, Arabic and Leadership – preparing learners to deepen their knowledge and serve their communities.

TAHFIDH CENTRE - BOYS & GIRLS

A dedicated environment for memorising the Qur'an, nurturing Huffadh and preserving the light of Allah from one generation to the next.

DEEN TEACHERS TRAINING COLLEGE & TVET CENTRE

Professional preparation of Deen teachers alongside practical skills for self-reliance, employability and community development.

WAQF - ENDOWMENT FUND

An estimated KSh 80,000,000 endowment designed to strengthen the eight existing Village Madrasas, support the addition of more Madrasas, secure teacher salaries, scholarships and facility maintenance, and provide a foundation for long-term sustainability.

3. THE WAQF: THE HEART THAT KEEPS THE CENTRE BEATING

The most powerful part of this vision is that the Centre is not intended to depend forever on emergency appeals. The proposed KSh 80 million Waqf is designed as an endowment foundation whose investment returns can help sustain the educational mission over time.

Its purpose is to turn one generation's generosity into a resource for many generations. As the Waqf becomes productive, its returns are intended to support:

- ☐ Teacher salaries and reliable support for dedicated teachers serving isolated villages.
- ☐ Basic Qur'anic and learning materials for children across the eight Village Madrasas and future centres.
- ☐ Scholarships so deserving learners are not excluded because of financial hardship.
- ☐ Safe, durable learning spaces protected from extreme sun, wind and difficult environmental conditions.
- ☐ Facility maintenance so institutions remain functional and dignified.
- ☐ Youth programmes centred on Deen, character, leadership and community unity.
- ☐ Women's programmes centred on Deen, learning, empowerment and community development.
- ☐ Expansion and strengthening of the eight Village Madrasas, with the potential to support additional Madrasa centres as the programme grows.
- ☐ Long-term institutional sustainability, reducing dependence on short-term fundraising for essential recurring needs.

THE WAQF THEREFORE ANSWERS A POWERFUL QUESTION: HOW DO WE MAKE TODAY'S GENEROSITY CONTINUE SERVING TOMORROW'S CHILDREN? We Build The Institution Today And Establish A Financial Foundation Intended To Keep Its Mission Alive Tomorrow.

4. EIGHT VILLAGE MADRASAS - THE ROOTS OF THE VISION

The Centre of Excellence will serve as the hub while SAJDA continues strengthening its grassroots network of eight Village Madrasas: Kara, Kubi Bagasa, Gombo, Adan Sora, Ilmaan Duresa, Goro-Rukesa, Barako Jaldessa and Gar Qarsa.

These village centres are where the journey begins. The Waqf is intended to strengthen them through teacher support, learning materials, safer learning environments and sustainable institutional backing while creating room for the network to grow.

5. FROM ONE CHILD TO A GENERATION

Imagine a child who learns the first letters of the Qur'an in a rural Madrasa.

Imagine that child progressing into Tanawi, memorising the Qur'an at the Tahfeed Centre, deepening knowledge through Jamia, learning leadership and practical skills and eventually becoming a teacher, professional, community leader or parent who passes the same values to the next generation.

THAT IS THE TRANSFORMATION SAJDA IS SEEKING.

Your contribution does not simply help build a facility. It can help build the person who will teach the next person. It can help create the teacher who teaches hundreds, the Hafidh who inspires a community, the leader who serves with integrity and the family that raises children rooted in faith.

"Indeed, those men and women who give in charity and lend to Allah a good loan will have it multiplied for them, and they will have an honorable reward."

Qur'an 57:18

6. WHY THIS IS A LEGACY INVESTMENT

The Prophet Muhammad ﷺ taught that when a person dies, their deeds come to an end except for, among other things, Sadaqah Jariyah and beneficial knowledge.

THE SAJDA LEGACY PROJECT BRINGS THESE IDEAS TOGETHER. A Qur'an taught. A verse memorised. A teacher supported. A student sponsored. A learning space maintained. A Madrasa kept open. A young person equipped to serve others. Each can become part of a chain of benefit that reaches beyond the original act of giving.

This is why we are not simply asking you to donate. WE ARE INVITING YOU TO INVEST IN A LEGACY.

7. A CALL TO DONORS, PARTNERS AND NETWORKS

A KSh 220 million vision cannot rest on one person. It will be built by a community of believers, philanthropists, businesses, institutions, families and friends who each decide to carry one part of the dream.

INVEST — Support the Centre, the Waqf or a specific component that speaks to your heart.

PARTNER — Businesses, foundations, Islamic organisations and institutions can explore strategic or long-term partnerships.

SPONSOR — Support teachers, scholarships, Qur'ans and learning materials, safe learning spaces or specific educational programmes.

SHARE — If you cannot fund the vision yourself, open your network. Forward this proposal to someone who can. Your introduction may become the reason a child receives an education.

8. A TRANSPARENT AND TRUSTWORTHY AMANAH

SAJDA's donor support proposal commits to treating donor funds as an 'Amanah (sacred trust)'. The proposed accountability approach includes project milestone updates, photo and video evidence, periodic expenditure reporting and field verification to ensure resources reach their intended beneficiaries.

For a project of this scale, SAJDA also recognises the importance of clear governance, proper financial controls, documented procurement and transparent reporting to donors and partners.

9. THE INVITATION

Dear donor, there may be many causes asking for your attention. This proposal asks you to look beyond the immediate moment and consider what your giving can build over decades.

One classroom can teach hundreds. One teacher can influence generations. One Madrasa can preserve knowledge in a village. One Waqf can help sustain the work after the original donors are gone.

HELP US BUILD THE PLACE WHERE KNOWLEDGE WILL BE TAUGHT, CHARACTER WILL BE FORMED, LEADERS WILL BE RAISED AND THE QUR'AN WILL REMAIN ALIVE IN THE HEARTS OF GENERATIONS.
